Human Trafficking Defined:

“the recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision, or obtaining of a person for labor or services,
through the use of force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of subjection to involuntary servitude, debt bondage, or slavery.”

Human Trafficking: What Is It?

- Human trafficking is a form of modern-day slavery
- Victims of trafficking exploited for commercial sex or labor purposes
- Traffickers use force, fraud or coercion to achieve exploitation

After drug dealing, human trafficking is tied with the illegal arms trade as the second largest criminal industry in the world, and it is the fastest growing.

Human Trafficking: Two Types

Sex Trafficking
and Labor Trafficking

Sex Trafficking

What is it?

The recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision, or obtaining of a person for the purpose of a commercial sex act, induced by force, fraud or coercion, or in which person performing the act is under age 18.

- If a child is <18 years old and is being used for a commercial sex act, the child is considered a victim of trafficking; no further criteria must be met.
- If the person is >18 years old, it must be proven that the person is being used for a commercial sex act by force, fraud, or coercion.

Safe Harbor

- Effective October 1
- Increases Penalties for purchasers and sellers of sex with minors (Johns and pimps)
- Protects children from being arrested for a crime committed against them

Protects Victims

- Mistake of age is no longer grounds for defense
- Consent of a minor is not a defense
- Allows for prostitution offenses to be erased from a victim's record when it can be proven that victims have been forced into prostitution or were under 18 at the time of the offense

Increases Penalties

- Makes pimping a felony in North Carolina
- Makes engaging in sexual acts with a prostitute a felony
- Upon second offense, solicitation of prostitution becomes a felony offense
- Increases felony penalties for trafficking of minors as well as those over the age of 18

Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking

- 11-14 years old-average age of first being prostituted
- No such thing as a “child prostitute”
- These are abused children
- Victims of sex trafficking

Who are especially vulnerable to domestic minor sex trafficking?

- Youth with histories of abuse
- Homeless, runaway or “throwaway” youth
- Youth within the foster care system & child protective services

Who victimizes American children?

- Parents/other family members

A young girl with light brown hair and freckles is smiling and holding a bright pink rectangular sign. The sign has four lines of text in a dark, sans-serif font. She is wearing a colorful, patterned shirt. In the background, a person in a blue shirt with '01-871' on it is partially visible on the left, and another person in a colorful floral dress is on the right. The setting appears to be an indoor event or school gathering.
